

9TH INDO-EUROPEAN

RESEARCH COLLOQUIUM

28-30/05/2025, University of Pisa

Aula Magna of Palazzo Matteucci, Piazza Torricelli 2, Pisa

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28TH

11.30 Registration
12.45 Opening remarks

Indo-European & Celtic

13.00 S. Real Besteiro (Santiago de Compostela), *From spatial semantics to lexical and grammatical markers: material in the light of PIE adverbs *áp(o), *én(s)ter, and kat
13.30 D. Luinetti, L. Montesi & D. Baldassarre (Roma Marconi), Infinitives in disguise. A comparative approach to a word-class changing category in Rgvedic Sanskrit, Homeric Greek, and Early Latin
14.00 D. McBride (Aberystwyth), Semantic drift of Celtic noble titles in Neo-Brythonic languages

Anatolian

15.00 V. Fagiolo (Siena Stranieri), Periphrastic constructions in Hittite: on the occurrence of phasal verbs with infinitives in -anna and -wanzi (-manzi)
15.30 G. Giannecchini (Oxford), The inflection of Hittite talugi- 'long' revisited: a yet-unrecognized stem allomorphy and its implications for the history of thematic adjectives
16.00 A. Rossi (Roma 3 & Roma Sapienza), Rethinking methodology for assessing morphological productivity in ancient Indo-European languages: a case study on Hittite
16.30 J. Walls (Oxford), Rhythms of Anatolia: Hittite metrical phonology

THURSDAY, MAY 29TH

Germanic

9.30 T. Ahmad (Poznań), A comparison in Transitivity prominence: Old Norse and Old English
10.00 H. Hornecker (Berlin Humboldt), Topics in the research on Gothic verb valency
10.30 G. Pintus (Milano Statale), Gothic usgaggan us: a case study on preposition-copying
11.00 G. Samberger (Würzburg), *Germanic *-wa/wō- and -wan/wōn- stems in Old Norse: between archaism and innovation

Phraseology

12.00 G. Carboni (Siena Stranieri), Hendiadys of words for FEAR in Indo-European poetic languages

12.30 G. Scalvini (Siena Stranieri), The windy thought: some considerations on an Indo-European phraseological inheritance

Greek

14.30 I. Maréchal (Toulouse), ἀργινόεις, περιμύεις, αἰθαλόεις: reshaping archaic forms in Homeric poetry
15.00 A. Sesoldi (Roma Sapienza), Verbal prefixation, actionality and aspect in Classical Greek
15.30 S. Zampetta (Pavia), Analyzing morphological productivity in Ancient Greek using quantitative methods

Albanian & Balto-Slavic

16.30 A. R. Herren (Basel), Reconstructing and defining Proto-Albanian
17.00 G. J. Spaans (Basel), The origin of the feminine plural ending -e in Albanian heterogenous nouns
17.30 V. Reiter (Wien), Substantive matters: how to form intransitive denominals in Old Church Slavonic
18.00 S. van Hes (Poznań), Reconsidering the evidence for Indo-European "ē-verbs" in Balto-Slavic: the type of Lithuanian teka, tekėti

FRIDAY, MAY 30TH

Indo-Iranian I

9.30 M. M. Cardella (Milano Statale), Avestan superlatives in -išta-: a contribution to the knowledge of parts of speech in ancient Indo-European languages
10.00 G. L. Fabbri (Roma Sapienza), On the shape of present reduplication in Indo-Iranian and Proto-Indo-European 10.30 L. Montesi (Roma Marconi), *Split intransitivity and Old Indo-Aryan primary derivatives: the case of *-ti- and -tu- suffixes

Indo-Iranian II

11.30 D. Kelly (Oxford), Who struck the serpent? Framing and implicatures in Rgvedic riddles
12.00 M. Macciò (Berlin Humboldt), Intensive and desiderative nominals in Vedic. Morphological features and syntactic properties
12.30 D. Procaccino (Leiden), *Spawning salmon: the position of Ossetic in the debate on Proto-Iranian 1

13.00-13.30 Closing Remarks

<https://sites.google.com/view/ierc9pisa>

Organizing committee: Giorgio Carboni (UniStraSi), Ottavia Cepraga (UniStraSi), Erica Fratellini (UCSC), Pietro Carlo-Maria Giusteri (Universität Graz), Giulia Greco (UniPi), Carlo Maria Pertica (UniStraSi)

DIPARTIMENTO DI FILOGIA, LETTERATURA E LINGUISTICA

with the kind contribution of Prof. Dr. Karin Stüber

